ANERA's Mission

American Near East Refugee Aid's (ANERA) mission is to reduce poverty and relieve suffering, thereby improving the lives of people in the Middle East. In cooperation with local institutions, we formulate and implement social and economic development projects and provide relief in response to emergency needs.

A nonprofit, charitable organization, ANERA is concerned with the long-term development needs of Palestinians and Lebanese. ANERA assists grassroots organizations to provide their communities with crucial health and community services in addition to increasing employment and educational opportunities for deprived groups. Since 1968, ANERA has helped provide the basic necessities of life to people adversely affected by war and conflict. Through these efforts and increasing public understanding of the region, ANERA promotes peace.

Through its in-kind health program, ANERA assists medical clinics and hospitals in meeting their annual requirements of pharmaceutical and other drugs and medical supplies, and by sending emergency shipments in time of war.
Dear Friends of ANERA,

To the future! As we write, momentous events may be on the horizon. In late spring 2000, Israel Defense Forces withdrew after an eighteen year military occupation of southern Lebanon. Throughout the year 2000, Israel has been engaged in serious negotiations with Palestinians and Syria, aimed at reaching meaningful agreements or peace treaties. All of this could dramatically alter the course of history for these eastern Mediterranean countries. Lives may improve. We all recognize though that whatever transpires, the road ahead will be difficult. Making peace among those who have not been friends for so long is not easy.

In this potentially fruitful, but still unstable context, ANERA’s long-term vision and mission remain salient and important. Our vision is for a better Middle East where people can live in peace with secure livelihoods. And our mission is to reduce poverty and relieve suffering, and thereby improve the lives of people in the Middle East.

To realize this end, ANERA undertakes a variety of projects to promote social and economic development in the region. A comprehensive listing is found later in this report. Here we highlight just three areas.

First, in the mid-nineties, we embarked on a major project to improve lives through the Gaza Women’s Loan Fund (GWLF). In partnership with a leading women’s organization, the Culture and Free Thought Association based in Khan Younis, we established the GWLF to help poor women build upon existing businesses or start new ones, to help them increase their incomes and help their families. These enterprising women utilize their business acumen in a variety of creative ways: food processing, marketing household products, business service centers, animal husbandry, hair salons, video camera studios, and clothing manufacture.

Indeed, these women through their hard work are looking to the future.

Second, improving people’s lives requires serious attention to education. ANERA has long supported a scholarship program for children attending six schools in Palestine and Lebanon. In 1999, we embarked on a major initiative focused on human resource development for the new field of information technology (IT). We are assisting local institutions establish centers of excellence for IT training, which will educate a cadre of IT professionals who will help Palestine, Jordan and Lebanon enter the new digital economy. Looking even further into the future, we are helping grassroots educational centers in refugee camps to set up computer training facilities for children.

Third, if the Middle East is to realize peace, Arabs and Israelis will need to cooperate in many fields. In pursuit of this end, we have concentrated on the broad area of environment through our sustained support for Friends of the Earth Middle East, formerly known as EcoPeace. This pioneering association brings together leading Egyptian, Israeli, Jordanian, and Palestinian non-governmental organizations that are involved in environmental issues. In a thoroughly interactive manner, they undertake joint projects that address common environmental issues, such as tourism, water quality, and economic development.

ANERA’s projects and activities involve people in the Middle East, the United States, and elsewhere. It is people—the project participants, our supporters, our superb staff—that make all of this possible today and into the future.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors of American Near East Refuge Aid,

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial position of American Near East Refuge Aid (ANERA) as of May 31, 2000 and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of ANERA's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We did not audit the financial statements of ANERA's Jerusalem office, which reflect total assets of $989,193 as of May 31, 2000 and total expenses of $1,412,052 for the year then ended. These statements were audited by other auditors whose report has been furnished to us, and our opinion, insofar as it relates to the amounts included for ANERA's Jerusalem office, is based solely on the report of the other auditors.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. These standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit and the report of our auditors provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, based on our audit and the report of the other auditors, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of American Near East Refuge Aid as of May 31, 2000, and the results of its activities and cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Organization
   American Near East Refugee Aid (ANERA) is a nonprofit corporation organized for the purpose of providing direct financial assistance and/or gifts-in-kind to Palestinian and other needy individuals in the Middle East. Consistent with this purpose is the support of development, educational, and vocational training programs in the area.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies
   - Estimates
     The preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

   - Statement Presentation
     The accompanying financial statements include the accounts of ANERA's headquarters, Jerusalem, and Gaza offices. All significant transactions between these offices have been eliminated in the accompanying financial statements.

   - Cash and Cash Equivalents
     ANERA considers all investments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. Cash equivalents consist of money market accounts that are available for use in current operations and certificates of deposit with maturities of 90 days or less.

   - Concentration of Credit Risk
     ANERA maintains accounts at a number of financial institutions in the United States and the Middle East. The United States bank accounts, consisting of checking accounts and short-term certificates of deposit, are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. The total amount insured for any one banking institution was $100,000. Deposits in the United States in excess of federally insured limits were $340,286 at May 31, 2000. Overseas accounts had a balance of $997,829 at May 31, 2000.

   - Furniture and Equipment
     Furniture and equipment are stated at cost if purchased and at fair value if donated. Furniture and equipment are depreciated using the straight-line method over estimated useful lives of five to ten years with no salvage value.

   - Major Additions and Improvements
     Additions and improvements purchased with unrestricted funds are capitalized as furniture and equipment while maintenance and repairs are expensed in the year incurred. Assets purchased with temporarily restricted grant funds are expensed as supplies and equipment, with title held by the grantor.

   - Deferred Revenue
     Operating funds restricted by the grantor or other outside party for particular operating purposes are deemed to be earned and reported as temporarily restricted revenue when ANERA has incurred expenditures in compliance with the specific grant restrictions. Such amounts received but not yet earned are reported as deferred revenue.

   - Grant Commitments
     Grant commitments represent funds to be expended in the Middle East for community development, education and health programs during the year ended May 31, 2001. ANERA recognizes the commitment as an expense when the grant is approved by the ANERA project committee.

   - Restricted and Unrestricted Revenue
     Contributions received are recorded as increases in unrestricted or temporarily restricted net assets, depending on the existence and/or nature of any donor restrictions.

   - Functional Allocation of Programs
     The costs of providing ANERA's various programs and supporting services have been summarized on a functional basis. Overhead costs which cannot be specifically identified up to $100,000. Deposits in the United States in excess of federally insured limits were $340,286 at May 31, 2000. Overseas accounts had a balance of $997,829 at May 31, 2000.
with a program or supporting service are allocated to the program and supporting services based on salaries.

3. Grants
   The United States Agency for International Development (USAID) awarded ANERA three grants that were combined into a letter of credit totaling $7,327,017. These are (1) a grant, which expired June 15, 2000, for constructing a potable water system in several Palestinian villages and creating a cooperative of regional water users to operate the system; (2) a grant, which expired September 30, 2002, to support projects in the West Bank and Gaza in the areas of water conservation, public health and sanitation, education, agriculture and social services; and (3) a grant, which expired April 27, 2003, to make improvements and additions to mitigate the effects of flooding near the city of Jericho. Authorized expenditures incurred in the administration of the grants are reimbursable to ANERA. As of May 31, 2000, all funds have been fully obligated and ANERA has been advanced $4,290,665 from the letter of credit.

   In July 1999, ANERA was awarded a grant from the International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD) in the amount of $3,000,000. The grant was later increased to $7,340,789 and extended to December 31, 2001. The purpose of the grant is to address the needs of the poor farmers in the rural area of Gaza and Jericho. As part of the grant agreement, IFAD is providing funding for a loan guarantee program. The money is deposited in banks in Gaza and Jericho. Interest earned on the account is recorded as additional grant revenue. At the conclusion of the grant, the proceeds of the account balances will be turned over to IFAD. Accordingly, the balances in these accounts are not included in the statement of financial position. As of May 31, 2000, $6,315,995 has been advanced to ANERA under the grant. ANERA has incurred $519,916 of expenses in excess of receipts under this grant. This amount is shown as grants receivable on the statement of financial position.

   ANERA was awarded a grant in 1999 from the Netherlands Development Cooperation in the amount of $890,000. The purpose of the grant is for work connected with a waste water recycling project in Salfit, Palestine. As of May 31, 2000, $410,000 has been advanced to ANERA under this grant. ANERA has incurred $228,821 in excess of expenses incurred on this grant and has recorded this amount as deferred revenue on the statement of financial position.

   Financial assistance from certain grants including USAID and IFAD are subject to special audit. Such audits could result in claims against ANERA for disallowed costs or non-compliance with grant restrictions. Until final settlement is reached, there exists a contingency to refund any amounts received in excess of allowable costs. Management believes that no material liability will result from such audits.

4. Pension Plan
   ANERA has a defined contribution pension plan that covers substantially all of its employees. Contributions are based on annual salaries. Pension plan expense amounted to $40,591 for the year ended May 31, 2000 and is included in fringe benefits.

5. Accrued Benefits
   The bar operative in the West Bank and Gaza dictates that upon retirement an employee shall receive a defined termination benefit. The benefit is calculated as one month’s salary at the employee’s salary rate at termination multiplied by the number of years of service. ANERA provides this benefit to both Jerusalem employees and full-time consultants.

As part of her work at the Gaza Women’s Loan Fund, Wafa Khaba (right) visits with Khbetiam a borrower who is running a successful video taping business.
During the year ended May 31, 2000, benefits of $5,581 were paid to terminated employees. The defined termination benefit at May 31, 2000 was $169,401. The remaining balance in accrued benefits of $60,781 represents accrued benefits for Washington, DC employees.

6. Commitments
AHERA occupies office space in Washington, DC under a noncancelable operating lease which expires May 31, 2006. The lease payments are subject to increases based on the Consumer Price Index, operating expenses and real estate taxes.
AHERA also occupies office space in Jerusalem under an operating lease which expires September 30, 2008. Other office sites are rented on a month to month basis.
As of May 31, 2000, the minimum future lease payments under these agreements are as follows:

And Thanks Also...

NERA also wishes to thank all other donors who contributed to our 2000 Annual Fund, including the many generous donors who have given anonymously through the Combined Federal Campaign and the United Way. We would also like to thank those who facilitated special gifts, including memorial gifts, matching grants or gifts of appreciated stock, from their family, friends and affiliated institutions. A special thanks goes to our volunteers and to those friends of ANERA who donated photographs, hospitality and other such in-kind contributions to ANERA’s work.

ANERA Legacy Society

The ANERA Legacy Society enhances opportunities for our donors to extend their generous support for lasting peace in the Middle East — and for Palestinians and Lebanese in need — beyond their lifetime. You can join the ANERA Legacy Society on either a named or anonymous basis by including ANERA in your will or trust, or through other deferred gifts. We would like to acknowledge the following ANERA Legacy Society members for their commitment to long-term peace, as well as those donors who have included ANERA in their wills or trusts but who wish their participation in the society to be anonymous.
