Charity Navigator, America's largest independent charity evaluator, consistently awards ANERA a Four-Star rating for excellent financial stewardship. A very small percentage of the 5,300 organizations evaluated receive this ranking on a regular basis. Charity Navigator describes the consistency in ANERA's rating as "an exceptional feat, especially given the economic challenges many charities have had to face..."

Long-time member in good standing of the Better Business Bureau Wise Giving Alliance "A" rated charity by the Institute of Philanthropy

Member of InterAction, the largest alliance of U.S.-based international non-governmental organizations. ANERA meets all of InterAction's ethical standards covering governance, financial reporting, fundraising, public relations, management practice, human resources and program services.

MISSION STATEMENT

American Near East Refugee Aid (ANERA) advances the well-being of people in the West Bank, Gaza, Lebanon and Jordan. Through partnerships and close consultation with local groups and communities, ANERA responds to economic, health and educational needs with sustainable solutions and also delivers humanitarian aid during emergencies.

- Committed. Since 1968, ANERA — a U.S.-based, nonprofit organization — has been expanding programs throughout Gaza, the West Bank, Jordan and Lebanon to reach more families in need. Our education, health, and job creation programs help many thousands of people every year.
- Ready. ANERA is ready to respond to changing conditions on the ground with flexibility and resilience. We work with hundreds of local partners and have a staff of engineers, medical professionals, I.T. specialists, educators and international development experts.
- Respected. We earn respect with the results we deliver. ANERA's Board includes retired diplomats, international business executives, noted scholars, educators and citizen activists. All have chosen to join ANERA because of our mission and our ability to efficiently deliver programs and relief.
- Trusted. From a grocery store owner in Chicago to the U.S. Agency for International Development, thousands of donors from 30 countries around the world trust us because they know their money is safe and spent on their intended purpose: to help people in need.

REPORT FROM the PRESIDENT and CHAIR

Confidence in ANERA has reached a new high on both the level of individual donors and government funders. This year, the State of Kuwait donated a first gift of $1 million to fight anemia among Gaza children through ANERA's Milk for Preschoolers program. USAID reiterated that trust by awarding ANERA several grants to relieve desperate conditions in Gaza. With containers of food and hygiene supplies, ANERA has been able to navigate Israeli Customs and local restrictions to safely deliver tons of supplies for thousands of families.

In war-torn regions, stable investments are hard to identify. However, ANERA has doubled its efforts with an asset that is lasting and worthwhile: the education of children. Our Early Childhood Development Initiative for the West Bank was launched to renovate preschools, retrain their teachers, produce curricula and encourage university degree program that focus on the education of three-to six-year-olds. In Lebanon, a similar investment is taking the form of specialized vocational training for youth in Palestinian refugee camps. Marketable skills in construction and nursing could show immediate returns for those individuals and the community.

For decades ANERA's agricultural projects have provided another means for families to improve their lives. This fiscal year, ANERA has targeted cooperatives of women and family farmers to expand production. Whether it's through apricot trees in the Bekaa Valley of Lebanon or zataar near Qalqilya in the West Bank or home gardens in Gaza, we are promoting jobs and self-sufficiency through sustainable food production.

On the other side of the spectrum, we have just introduced a long-distance medical training program for doctors and medical students isolated in the West Bank and Gaza. With Intel funding, Johns Hopkins University and Al Quds University have partnered with ANERA to upgrade medical professionals' skills through video and online teaching systems.

ANERA proves itself again and again as a regional specialist. We operate under stressful conditions with repeated success because of our efficient and dedicated staff. Thousands of individuals have donated generously to our work and new supporters have become part of our community because they consider ANERA to be one of the most positive ways to impact families in the Middle East.

We will continue to earn that trust.

HIGHLIGHTS FROM 2010

- Connected more than 400 families in Gaza to reliable water networks, laying miles of plastic piping available inside of Gaza.
- Distributed more than 6,000 trees throughout the war-torn Upper Baalbeck and Hasbaya areas of Lebanon, helping farmers raise their level of income through cultivating high-value crops such as almonds, plums, cherries, peaches, pomegranates, apples, pears and olives.
- Cleared agricultural waste from 240 farms in Gaza, removing 140 tons of plastic sheeting from 500 acres and employing 30 workers.
- With funding from the U.N. International Fund for Agricultural Development, built wholesale produce markets to serve the West Bank towns of Tulkarem and Jericho, making it easier for farmers to get their fresh fruits and vegetables to buyers.

Water and Sanitation and Other Infrastructure Program **

Results in 2009-2010

- 26 Completed projects in the West Bank (19 water/sanitation-related)
- 2,851 Short-term jobs created
- 165,312 People (14,774 households) now have access to improved drinking water
- 38.5 Miles of pipes laid
- 3 Clinics fully refurbished
- 4 Schools with improved water and sanitation
- 2 Communities now have proper storm water drainage systems
- 1 Water reservoir constructed

 A 5-year (2008-2013), $60 million program funded by the U.S. Agency for International Development. ANERA has been receiving funding from USAID for work in the West Bank for over 30 years.

ANERA completed work on a water tower in the West Bank village of Arrana. The tower holds 300 cubic meters of water, enough for one cubic meter of water per day for every household in the village. Before this USAID-funded project, villagers had been completely dependent on tanker trucks for their daily drinking water.

Health and Relief

HIGHLIGHTS FROM 2010

- Delivered 47 shipments of donated health care supplies, school materials and hygiene kits, valued at $29.7 million, to institutions throughout the West Bank, Gaza, Lebanon and Jordan.
- Through the Milk for Preschoolers program, delivered vitamin-enriched biscuits and milk daily to approximately 20,000 preschoolers to combat anemia.
- Increased breast cancer awareness in the West Bank by working with patients and practitioners to better understand and treat the disease.
- Completed a psychosocial assistance program in Gaza which reached 6,500 children and 1,500 parents affected by the bombings during the winter of 2008-2009.
- Worked with Palestinian Authority's Ministry of Health, since 2008, to strengthen food fortification practices throughout the West Bank, where the level of essential micronutrients in the typical diet tends to be low.
- In Lebanon, with 100 local partner agencies, directed the Creative Health Campaign, which makes healthy living fun through interactive educational materials and events, such as health parades and festivals. Forty community festive events attracted 10,800 participants. Most events took place in Palestinian refugee camps and gatherings (unofficial camps).

A doctor at a Gaza clinic sees a patient for nose and throat irritation, then prescribes a Sudafed spray provided by ANERA through the In-Kind Program. The clinic receives about 30% of all of its medicines from ANERA.

CHC has distributed 250,000 games, brochures, and other health materials addressing themes that include anti-smoking, healthy eating habits, infant feeding practices, and rational use of medicines.

Because of ANERA's food fortification program in the West Bank, the Central Public Health Laboratory at the Ministry of Health has well-trained personnel, like this lab technician, who are able to implement and refine the methods for determining different micronutrient levels in fortified flour and salt.

Education

HIGHLIGHTS FROM 2010

- Began a multi-year Early Childhood Development Initiative which includes curriculum and national standards development, capacity building for preschool educators; mentoring programs for teachers in coordination with West Bank universities; and upgrading infrastructure at selected preschools.
- Rehabilitated 33 preschools in Gaza using funds from individual private donors and the U.N. Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs.
- In the West Bank, constructed one new school; added 22 classrooms onto five schools and six classrooms at a university; and renovated 16 classrooms in one school. Work was financed with funds from the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID) and the U.N. International Fund for Agricultural Development.
- In Lebanon, renovated, with funding from USAID, a vocational training center near the Nahr El Bared refugee camp. The center was destroyed during fighting at the camp in 2007. At the restored center, classes train Palestinian and Lebanese youth in high-demand skills such as carpentry, aluminum work, nursing, child care, and automotive electronics.
- With two separate grants from the State Department's Bureau of Population, Refugees, and Migration and UNESCO, provided after-school assistance and tutoring to displaced Iraqi and underprivileged Jordanian students, ages 6 through 18.

An operating theater in the Rafidiya Surgical Hospital in Nablus, which ANERA is renovating with $2.9 million from USAID and other funding partners. The money will allow the facility to fully modernize all of its operating rooms and bring its electrical and air conditioning units completely up to date.

Top photo: As part of a breast cancer awareness project in the West Bank, ANERA helped produce and disseminate an easy-to-follow booklet describing the steps to early detection of cancer, self examination and how to seek help.

Bottom photo: A farmer in Beit-Lahia, in northern Gaza, weeds strawberries after an ANERA Plastic Mulch Project cleared the farm of plastic used for insulating seedlings. The piles of plastic waste were then sent to a local factory for recycling into piping for water and electricity.

A group of youngsters at a Gaza preschool enjoying their milk. ANERA's Milk for Preschoolers program delivers vitamin-rich milk and biscuits each school day to 150+ preschools across Gaza.
