Charity Navigator, America's largest independent charity evaluator, awarded ANERA our ninth consecutive Four-Star rating for excellent financial stewardship. Only 1% of the charities rated have received at least nine consecutive four-star evaluations, indicating that ANERA consistently executes its mission in a fiscally responsible way, and outperforms most other charities in America.

Long-time member in good standing of the Better Business Bureau Wise Giving Alliance.
"A" rated charity by the Institute of Philanthropy.

Member of InterAction, the largest alliance of U.S.-based international non-governmental organizations. ANERA meets all of InterAction's ethical standards covering governance, financial reporting, fundraising, public relations, management practice, human resources and program services.

In partnership with Playgrounds for Palestine, ANERA installed a new play space for the children at the Right to Live Society in Gaza, which provides a nurturing learning environment to children with Down Syndrome and Autism. The playground was designed and constructed locally with materials that came from recycled metals available inside Gaza.

REPORT FROM the PRESIDENT and CHAIR

We are proud to report that, in fiscal year 2011, ANERA continued to deliver and grow despite the fragile world economy. In fact, our programs in Gaza, a challenging location, achieved new success. USAID had such confidence in ANERA that it authorized us to undertake a number of projects, which required a significant level of coordination to permit the entry of building supplies for repairing clinics, community centers and water systems. We also delivered 17 shipments of medicines and supplies to Gaza and an equal amount to the West Bank.

The 2010-2011 academic year saw the successful implementation of ANERA's Early Childhood Development program in the West Bank. The program is built on fundamental principles that call for safe schools, child-centered educational processes, and parental and community involvement.

Meanwhile, the staff in Lebanon began two highly innovative projects. In partnership with the American University of Beirut, they devised a means for city dwellers to grow vegetables on rooftops and small plots of land between towering buildings in refugee camps. These methods provide camp residents with free, fresh food, which is very welcome. Their second pilot project partners us with the Qatari agency Reach Out to Asia to train unemployed twenty-year-olds in trades that are in high demand.

All of this progress has occurred in the third year of a recession. The generosity of our loyal supporters has encouraged us throughout. Two particularly inspiring sources of funding came from our monthly donors — whose numbers increased by 10% this year alone — and several generous bequests.

Finally, moving into 2012, we have made some exciting additions to our leadership team: Samar El-Yassir, a native of Beirut with over 20 years of experience in social development, joined us as country director in Lebanon; Paul Butler, a veteran Middle East development professional, filled the post of country director in the West Bank/Gaza; and Donna Diane, a CPA with 30+ years of finance experience, joined us as chief financial officer. They all bring strength and energy to ANERA, making us even better stewards of your funds and dreams.

In a year of much upheaval and uncertainty in the Middle East, ANERA consistently gives you reason to hope and know that good things continue to be accomplished.

We are grateful for your support, which always encourages us,

Edward Gnehm

Economic Development

HIGHLIGHTS FROM 2011

- Touched the lives of more than one million people through the second phase of ANERA's USAID Emergency Water and Sanitation program (2008-present). EWASII created nearly 134,000 days of employment, renovated or constructed 270 classrooms, built three new schools, renovated eight clinics and six hospitals, and completed 28 water, sanitation and drainage projects.
- Initiated a home-gardening project in Gaza with 35 families participating. Families received training, greenhouses, seedlings, water tanks, fertilizers and irrigation systems. The value of agricultural produce from the home gardens ranged from $400 to $800 per household for the first season.
- Using private donations, installed water networks in Gaza in the Abu-Rukba and Abu-Jarad areas, as well as one in Abu-Safi in Beit Hanoun. Nearly 900 families have new water connections because of these efforts.
- In partnership with the YMCA, and as part of ANERA's effort to increase income from farming, provided nearly 7,000 fruit trees to 141 farmers in the Bekaa valley in Lebanon. Farmers received training and technical assistance and had their soil tested to help them better care for their trees.
- Hired 30 unskilled workers to remove agricultural plastic waste from more than 200 acres of land in northern Gaza. Twenty-seven farmers learned why plastic removal is important for land quality and environmental protection.

Through an ANERA grant to the Association for the Development of Rural Capabilities, we provided 20 small-scale farmers with milk machines to boost their incomes through more efficient milk collection.

ANERA constructed four cisterns in Jeen Sulfit, West Bank, bringing the total number of cisterns completed and collecting rainwater to 19. The families who use these cisterns planted thyme seedlings and ANERA staff visited to give recommendations on caring for fields and preparing them for irrigation.

ANERA contractors remove rubble from the Fatmeh Khatoon Basic Girls School in the city of Jenin, West Bank. USAID provided $200,000 to renovate the school (built in the 15th century as a trading post), which serves 400 students. The work was finished just in time for the beginning of the school year.

Health and Relief

HIGHLIGHTS FROM 2011

- Delivered 51 shipments of donated medicines, hospital equipment, shoes, school supplies, and many other items to the Middle East, valued at $44 million. This represented ANERA's largest number of shipments delivered in one year.
- Through the Milk for Preschoolers program, delivered vitamin-fortified milk and biscuits manufactured in the West Bank and Gaza, respectively, to 18,000 children at approximately 150 preschools across Gaza.
- Coordinated a six-month medical education series between Johns Hopkins and Al Quds Universities. This program for doctors in the West Bank and Gaza strengthened the skills of family practitioners and helped hospital-based specialists learn the latest medical developments in their specialty areas.
- Extended ANERA's Breast Cancer Awareness Project to the West Bank, East Jerusalem, and the Wehdat refugee camp in Jordan. Approximately 9,000 women learned about the risks of breast cancer and how to perform regular breast self-examinations.
- From April 2008 to October 2010, ANERA addressed micronutrient deficiencies and improved the nutritional status of Palestinians by providing technical assistance to strengthen food fortification efforts through A2Z, the USAID Micronutrient and Child Blindness Project.
- Through a network of more than 120 partners in the Creative Health Campaign, spread messages about the dangers of smoking, the smart use of medicine, and child and mother nutrition in Lebanon's poor communities and Palestinian refugee camps.

With funding from ARD/USAID, ANERA delivered essential items to thousands of families across Gaza. In addition to food and hygiene items, winter clothing went to children like this boy who lives in a tent.

2,000+ children at 30 Gaza preschools had fun at ANERA's summer camp, where they played games and learned healthy habits like brushing teeth with colorful new toothbrushes supplied by ANERA's in-kind program.

Education

HIGHLIGHTS FROM 2011

- As part of ANERA's Early Childhood Development program, upgraded four kindergartens and provided ongoing training for 24 preschool teachers in Nablus and Bethlehem to create stimulating, child-centered learning environments.
- Completed the reconstruction of a vocational training center near the Nahr El Bared refugee camp in northern Lebanon. The center accommodates 400 students and offers courses in nursing, electrical work, carpentry, car mechanics, refrigeration and heating, nursery teacher training, IT, secretarial skills and carpentry.
- In Qusour and Zarqa, Jordan, successfully completed ANERA's one-year program of academic support for more than 600 students, many of whom were Iraqi refugees, with after-school tutoring in English, Arabic, math and science.
- Renovated nine preschools in Gaza, bringing the total number of schools renovated to 42 since 2009. Funds came from private donors and the UN Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs.
- Hosted summer camps in Gaza and the West Bank for thousands of preschool-aged children. The camps in Gaza had a health theme while those in the West Bank were focused on expressive arts.

An ANERA contractor installs new faucets at the Atufala Al Mubakera primary school in the Deir Al Balah refugee camp in Gaza. ANERA rehabilitated the school, providing new toilets and faucets, a new water tank, colorful paint, sun shades and storage. The school's 300 students now enjoy a cleaner, safer and happier learning environment.

◀ Sulaima Abu El Haj, ANERA's early childhood education coordinator, trains preschool teachers in the fundamentals of early childhood care and education, including child development, child rights, learning theories, safety, classroom organization, expressive arts, play and much more.

2011 Bequests

ANERA mourns the passing of these valued members of our community, but we still benefit from their generous spirit. Through their bequest gifts, they continue to demonstrate their commitment to ANERA's work and set an example for others. These gifts mean ANERA will be here tomorrow, so people throughout the Middle East may live with the dignity we all deserve.

Peter Gubser Education Fund

Peter Gubser, ANERA president from 1978 to 2007, died at the age of 69 on September 2, 2010. To honor his years of service to people in the Middle East, ANERA established the Peter Gubser Education Fund. The gifts given in his memory will help young people create a better future for their communities for years to come.

The adjustment to living in Jordan was hard at first for this young refugee from Iraq. But ANERA's extracurricular classes helped him do better, both socially and academically.

MISSION STATEMENT

American Near East Refugee Aid (ANERA) advances the well-being of people in the West Bank, Gaza, Lebanon and Jordan. Through partnerships and close consultation with local groups and communities, ANERA responds to economic, health and educational needs with sustainable solutions and also delivers humanitarian aid during emergencies.

In Lebanon, ANERA sent five youth from Palestinian refugee camps to the Al-Kafaat Foundation to enroll in its excellent vocational training programs. The scholarships, jointly funded by Al-Kafaat and ANERA, are in the fields of business, jewelry-making, and electronics. This is the first time that some of the youngsters have been out of the camps and socializing with other segments of society.

Martine Btaich, Photographer

In partnership with UNRWA, ANERA distributed more than 40,000 new books, donated by the International Book Bank, to 40 schools in Jordan. The colorful, lively illustrations were a big hit with the children

COVER IMAGE:

Soliman, Mohammed, and Basma live in a small agricultural community 12 miles from Gaza City. Their family's source of income was drying up because of the blockade on Gaza. Now, thanks to ANERA's donors, they have a greenhouse filled with tomatoes, peppers, melons and many more varieties of produce, which they can eat themselves or sell for extra income.
